Anthropology BS

GENERAL INFORMATION

- Most professional anthropological jobs require a graduate degree.
- May need a willingness to travel and endure adverse living/working conditions during field studies or excavations. Working conditions and hours vary with the type of work/research performed.
- As the demand for university/college faculty positions decreases, most openings will be in consulting firms and government agencies.
- For jobs outside of academia, earn a degree in another field such as sociology, political science, law, medicine, business, urban planning, or public administration to increase employment opportunities.
- Anthropology is a good preparation for jobs that involve people skills and require an understanding of cultural differences.
- Spend a summer in field school or travel and study other cultures.
- Volunteer to help with a professor's research.
- Gaining relevant work experience through internships, practica, part-time jobs, or volunteer positions is critical.
- To maximize your employability, develop practical skills such as computer expertise, written and verbal communication, project management, etc.

SKILLS

- Ability to conduct and explain scientific research
- Accuracy with details/collecting and organizing data
- High proficiency in written/oral communications
